

FRAWLEY COMPANY WILL ARRIVE IN TIME

FRAWLEY FULLY EXPECTS TO HAVE STEAMER KOREA TO HOLD OVER AND ALLOW PERFORMANCE OF SECRET SERVICE.

Judging from the following letter received by a friend of T. Daniel Frawley, who, by the way, has now dropped the "T" from the play bills, gives good assurance of "Secret Service" being presented here. Mr. Frawley writes that he is pulling all the wires to get the steamer to stay over long enough for the performance and that there is every probability of its so doing. The letter, which came on the Alameda, goes on to say:

"I am sending a line by the Alameda to tell you we are coming with the finest all-around company it has ever been my good fortune to be associated with. We are pulling every wire here to make assurance that the ship will stop long enough for us to stay, and it looks reasonably sure. In 'Secret Service' the company appears to excellent advantage, and I need not tell you it is the greatest play of modern times. We will hold out our complete production as it is played here. The big telegraph scene should prove extremely interesting to the islands."

"It is the biggest venture of its kind that has ever left these shores and on its success depends the establishment of a complete circuit from London to London via the Orient, Australia, India and South Africa back to London with London and America as producing points."

"Please do your best in recommending us. I promise you that the company will be considered the best I have ever given them. I am feeling very sanguine over the venture and am looking for big results. Will see you within a week after the arrival of this letter. We leave here the 30th at 1 p. m."

Frawley has gathered around him in the present company four ladies who are said to be the "prettiest galaxy ever gathered together in one company," a circumstance the more remarkable from the fact that besides being handsome women they are all accredited first class actresses. A recent performance of "Secret Service" at the Grand Opera House in San Francisco is criticized in glowing terms by the press. An extract runs as under:

T. Daniel Frawley should be proud of the flattering reception given him and his excellent company last night in William Gillette's incomparable American play, "Secret Service." The house was packed from the back wall of the gallery clear down to the footlights and the applause was as big as the house. And it was well deserved, too, for this is Mr. Frawley's star role, and the play stands in the front row of the good ones. Among the ladies, Edw. Stewart as Caroline Mifflord was a refreshment to the eyes, a delight to the ear and a banquet to the artistic appetite. Mary Van Buren, the Edith Varney of the east, acted the warm-hearted Southern girl to the life.

THE SUGAR COLONIES

LONDON, August 18.—The West India committee has published the reply of Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary to the deputation of the Island of Trinidad which recently interviewed him on the subject of the inadequacy of the relief which the Government is giving the islanders. Chamberlain declared that any increase of the sum (£1,250,000) voted by Parliament was out of the question, and that he could hold out no hope of a similar grant in 1903. If, however, the sugar industry there required further aid he would consider raising in the colonies money to be advanced to the planters on easy terms. He had no fears regarding the ratification of the Brussels convention, but if, through some unforeseen cause, it was not ratified, effective measures would be taken to safeguard the interests of the sugar industries of the British West Indies.

Cargo of Scrap Iron on the way To New York

SEATTLE, August 19.—A decided innovation in the way of freight will be included in the cargo of the American-Hawaiian steamship Hawaiian when she sails from this port for New York via Honolulu. She will carry 100 tons of scrap iron which she is to carry clear around South America to New York. The Hawaiian finished coaling last night and will begin loading the scrap iron today. She has taken about 1000 tons of bunker coal sufficient to last her to Honolulu and thence to Coronal. She takes from this port for Honolulu 250,000 feet of lumber, 51 tons of oats and bran, 1,774 barrels of lime, and flour, bottled beer, etc.

OBJECT TO MEETING

MORE TROUBLE IN FIGHTING SEVENTH.

The factions in the Troublesome Fifth District Precinct Quarrel Over a Call for a Meeting.

There was trouble among the politicians of the Fifth District this morning over the call issued by Judge Wilcox, for a meeting of the Precinct Club of the "Fighting Seventh" this evening, to consider the recommendation of candidates to the District Convention. Wilcox's call placed the object of the meeting as "the consideration of resolutions adopted by the District Committee, August 26, 1902, the recommendation of candidates to the committee and other objects for the progress of the Republican party for the next campaign."

When the Lang-Huddy side of the party heard the call they proceeded to declare it contrary to the rules of the party. They did not want to recommend candidates at this time, and demanded that the call be rescinded. A set of resolutions was made up, declaring that the meeting was premature and the call was contrary to the rules for club's action as made by the convention and central committee of the Republican party.

This morning the objectors vigorously circulated their resolution, and there was a lot of caucusing and discussion among the political warriors of the Troublesome seventh, over the demand that the call of a meeting be withdrawn. Judge Wilcox was appealed to, and the kickers threatened to come out with resolutions of denunciation if their demands were not acceded to. They declared that they would not attend, and that if the meeting was held they would split the club, and take independent action of their own. The discussion is all a part of the fight for Lane and Huddy for the senate, as against Achi and McCandless.

Judge Wilcox finally agreed to indefinitely postpone the meeting and another may be called later.

JAPAN AFTER TRADE.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Japan is making an effort to develop her trade in Siberia according to a report from United States Commercial Agent Greener at Vladivostok, dated June 27th which was made public at the State Department today. Mr. Greener says that a Japanese commercial agent is making a tour of that vast territory to select eligible localities for a consular representative of Japan and to endeavor to increase the trade of Japan there in various other ways. The agent is accompanied by three graduates of the official Japanese commercial school all of whom are familiar with the Russian language.

NOT IN POLITICS

The hunting party tendered by Samuel Parker to Senator Burton and a few invited guests, returned sunburnt and unshaven on the Claudine shortly after noon this morning.

"I have been on a hunting trip," said Samuel Parker, "and I do not know anything about politics. I have not been offered, or have I accepted or thought about the nomination for delegate."

"I have had the greatest time of my life," said Senator Burton, who brings back a load of bear tusks for souvenirs. The party bagged dogs, cattle, bears and wild turkeys, and Senator Burton is said to have acquitted himself right admirably and shot his full share.

Illicit Still In The Valley

The best "still" that has yet been found here by the internal-revenue officers, and the strongest liquor yet seized, was found yesterday afternoon in a raid by Collector Chamberlain and Deputies Drake and Couzens. Some of the electric car on test this morning showed up 130 proof, at a temperature of 82 degrees, which means 130 proof at the standard temperature for tests. This is by a good deal the strongest liquor the officers have run up against yet. It smells like vinegar and tastes like liquid fire.

Tom Fong was the man in apparent possession of the still when the officers went to visit it, and he was arrested and will be held to await the action of the federal grand jury next October. Fong's place was in Kalih valley, about half a mile from the end of the electric car line, about 200 yards behind the residence of George Markham and well out of the way. The distilling outfit was a very good one, capable of producing a large quantity of liquor if worked continuously. It is now in the offices of the collector, held as evidence, and will be destroyed when the case is over.

Fong had run up the floor in one of the rooms of his dwelling and had made a furnace of bricks. The officers went to his place at about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. They found some of the liquor that had been made was still hot. Four bottles of okoleha, four demijohns of the same stuff, of varying strength, and a barrel containing about ten gallons, were seized.

On test this morning one bottle of the stuff showed 130 proof, while others varied from 117 to 87. All are held as evidence. Fong was confined in the city prison and this morning Chamberlain swore to a warrant before Commissioner Gill, charging the Chinese with distilling liquor without a license, in violation of the internal revenue laws.

OPENING TALK OF THE CAMPAIGN WAS GOOD THING FROM HONOLULU

With ex-Senator John M. Thurston to open their campaign, the Republicans of Honolulu are anticipating a great meeting at the Orpheum tonight. The distinguished orator has much improved in health and will undoubtedly give an address such as the people of Hawaii seldom have an opportunity to hear.

There is great demand for seats, and officers of the Young Men's Republican club have been besieged with requests for reservations of seats. Account of the governor's party and a "Y. M. C. A." there will be no such reservation, however, but the front part of the house will be kept for ladies and their escorts up to 7:45, after which all parts of the house will be open to anyone who comes. The entire house will undoubtedly be crowded, and there will probably be an overflow meeting outside.

The Senator will choose his own topic and will occupy most of the evening. A. G. M. Robertson, chairman of the Territorial Central committee, may make an address, and make will be furnished by Ellis's band. Judge Wilcox will give a short digest of Thurston's remarks in the Hawaiian language, for the benefit of those present who do not understand English.

Lorin Andrews, president of the Young Men's club, will preside and introduce the speaker. Chairman Robertson, and secretary Fisher of the central committee will be on the platform, as well as the chairman of the district committee, and a few prominent members of the party.

Claim to Have Been Ignored

A call will be issued by the Hawaii Yacht Club, secretary, P. Weaver Jr., for a general meeting of all members on Friday afternoon next at his office. Special endeavor is urged for attendance as matters of importance are to be taken up.

The yacht club officials are distinctly aggrieved over the slighting of the organization by the regatta committee appointed by the boat clubs for the regatta on September 20. It is claimed that the boat club committee contains three members who control the regatta with its prizes, its events, judges and starters and that one of the triumvirate is a member of a now defunct organization of the yachtmen left out, nor has it been approached with regard to the regatta as to events or possible prizes.

The regatta would, it is claimed be but a sorry spectacle without the yachts to enliven the harbor front and the harbor. The yacht club too has been planning some new features of yachting, including aquatic sports which will be carried out in the harbor while the course would have been changed to make the racing more prominent to the spectators.

The leading members of the yacht club, who are a number of them, heads of business houses which have subscribed liberally in former years to the regatta, will glance askance at the subscription list this year if they are not given the representation they want. The rowing men, many of whom do not know a yachtsman from a hobo, and it is claimed that starters and officials who may be fully competent to deal with oarsmen, would not be competent as judges in a yacht race.

It is however the ignoring of the yachtsmen on the committee and the putting on of a member of a defunct club that sticks in the craw of the sailors. The yacht club has many wealthy members and is on an exceptionally good financial basis and most of them are liberal subscribers to all aquatic events. The feeling is quite deep this year and some of the members have refused to sign blank to subscribe anything when the time comes as well as threaten to withdraw from the rowing clubs due lists unless they are considered properly in the regatta matter.

At the meeting of the yachtmen on Friday the grievance will be aired and at the same time the new program of novelties for the regatta submitted to the members for comment, approval or suggestion. Immediately after the regatta, a cruise, long contemplated, to Kahana Bay, on the other side of the island will be taken.

VENTRILOQUIST IN COURT.

There was a ventriloquist in Judge Gear's court this morning, and he gave an impressive entertainment that was much appreciated by everyone present but Attorney Brooks. The ventriloquist is one of the 33 prisoners whose cases Gear is wrestling with, and as he sat in the prisoners' dock he produced sounds that seemed to come from the grass plot near the Kahemahema statue. It appeared that someone had a phonograph outside the building and was working it. Brooks rose from his seat and hurried to the window. The noise kept on, but no one outside seemed to be making it. Other attorneys who understood the proposition finally came to the rescue of Brooks and the puzzle was explained.

No Action Lies For Disasters On the Ocean

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—United States District Judge De Haven decided today that persons whose relatives have been killed on the seas by drowning or otherwise have no legal redress for damages against a steamship company. The decision was rendered on petition of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, owner of the steamship Walla Walla, and the Pacific Steamship company for a limitation of liability of damages caused by the sinking of the Walla Walla in the Pacific ocean near Cape Mendocino on January 2, 1902. The disaster was caused by a collision of the steamship with the French bark Max.

GEAR MAY CALL JURY

GOOD MEN AND TRUE SERVE WITHOUT PAY.

If Court Decides in Affirmative There Will Be Rush Among the Lawyers To Postpone Their Cases.

Judge Gear may decide to call another jury for the present term of court, and insist that the jurors serve whether they are paid or not. He did not give the expected decision this morning, on the motion of Deputy Attorney General Cathcart, to continue thirty-three cases to the November term. The matter went over to next Tuesday, Monday being a holiday.

"The question of the power of the court to summon another jury under the circumstances is a very important one," said the judge. "The court has looked into the matter but is not yet ready to render a decision. Under the law the jurors are entitled to their fees every day. There is no question about that. The question of the power of the court to compel them to serve when there is no pay, is another matter, on which the court will pass next Tuesday."

If the court should decide to call a jury and force the jurors to serve, there will be a lot of sudden change of front among the lawyers. The pressing demands for immediate trials will disappear, and motions for continuances will come from the other side, while the Attorney General will be found vigorously demanding that the cases be taken up without delay, instead of talking for continuances as now.

NORTH TO HAVE SAILED.

The schooner John G. North was to have sailed from Punaui yesterday for the South. She had about finished discharging her cargo of lumber Thursday.

SHIP'S OFFICERS UNITE.

Over forty seafaring men, all licensed officers of the merchant marine, met recently at San Francisco and took the first steps toward the permanent organization of an association of masters and mates of sailing vessels, for their own common benefit and for the betterment generally of those engaged in the sailing ship trade.

One item of the conditions in which the members of the organization hold there is room for their betterment is on the matter of pay of sailing ship officers. It is shown, for example, that masters and chief mates of sailing ships get but $75 to $125 a month, while the same officers on steamers get from $125 to $300 a month, in spite of the fact that sailing ship officers must know all that steamers officers must know in navigation, and much more than they need know in seamanship.

SALE CONFIRMED.

Judge Humphreys this morning made an order confirming the sale of the McCully tract by Mrs. Willard as commissioner, to the McCully Land Company, for the sum of $66,000. The commissioner is awarded a fee of $100 and the auctioneer $50. The signing of the decree of confirmation is probably the last judicial act of Humphreys, as Monday is a legal holiday and he will no longer be a judge after Monday.

ALLEGED CRIMPING IN PACIFIC PORTS

FOREIGN EMBASSADORS PROTEST TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT—SAN FRANCISCO, PORTLAND AND SEATTLE ARE COMPLAINED OF.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—Continued flagrant cases of crimping at ports along the Pacific coast, particularly at San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, have resulted in protests being filed by the British, German and French Embassadors at this capital. The State Department has just received practically a joint note from the three embassies named, asking that this Government take steps to prevent forcible and surreptitious seizure of sailors from merchant vessels of those countries, and to prevent extortions and robberies by boarding-house keepers at Pacific ports.

Acting Secretary Acheson turned the matter over to Assistant Attorney-General Hoyt, who has wired instructions to United States District Attorneys at the ports named to look into the situation, and take such steps as are necessary to prevent outrages to sailors and to punish crimpers whenever caught.

It is represented that sailors from British, German, French and other foreign ships are crimped into service on American coastwise and deep-sea vessels, most of them going into the Philippine and Alaskan trade. The abuse has been growing constantly, according to the foreign Ministers, who declare that indignation reports are made at European home ports by almost all masters of vessels touching at Pacific Coast ports. The State Department has given assurance that stringent measures will be taken to prevent the abuses complained of.

FIRE IN COAL PILE.

The department was summoned to a fire this morning in the coal pile of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company on Alameda street near the Esplanade. The fire was in the middle of a big pile of coal. Chief Thurston put an engine pumping water onto the coal. Carts were utilized to carry the coal away as the firemen and workmen dug into the pile to try and get at the center of the fire.
